Karen Lee, Alexandra Branyon : Nouvelle Chinese Cooking/East Meets West With Brilliant New Taste before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Nouvelle Chinese Cooking/East Meets West With Brilliant New Taste:

From Library JournalLee (Chinese Cooking for the American Kitchen) turns playful in her most relaxed cookbook yet. Challenged to combine Chinese ingredients with techniques and ingredients from other cuisines, she produces such recipes as bouillabaisse with black bean aioli, chicken pate with long beans and pickled ginger, and wonton cannoli. These are good recipes, with unexpected combinations of ingredients which yield their own nuances of flavor yet retain the Chinese emphasis. For venturesome cooks and the libraries they use.
