Jane Pettigrew : Tea-time Recipes before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Tea-time Recipes:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Delightful book By B M. This book is an absolute delight with the beautiful illustrations for some of the recipes. The author has graciously translated the recipe ingredients from grams to ounces for the reader. Especially helpful are the tips for successful baking. The bits of history about the regions from which these recipes came make for interesting reading. A must-have book for those wanting traditional English recipes for tea!

In her delightful book, Jane Pettigrew presents an array of tempting tea-time recipes from Britain's National Trust properties, such as Plum Loaf, Cut and Come Again Cake, Herb Bread, Cherry Scones, Almond Apricot Shortcake, Ripon Christmas Bread, and Chelsea Buns. She has also discovered numerous examples of curious and ornate teaware as well as tales of bizarre tea parties, such as the one at which all the guests were treated to a haircut by the local postman. Jane Pettigrew, an authority on tea and tea history, is also the author of Tea, Tea and Infusion, Coffee, From Grandmother with Love, Juicing It!, and In the Victorian Kitchen.

"There are few hours in life more agreeable than the hour dedicated to the ceremony known as afternoon tea." Henry James Portrait of a Lady.
About the Author Jane Pettigrew became involved in the world of tea after opening her teashop 'Tea-Time' in Clapham in 1983. She is author of Traditional Teatime Recipes and Tea Classified. She speaks at conferences around the world and appears regularly on television and radio. She lives in London.
